OPENING OF SEASON

Senators Play Mack's Athletics Tomorrow in Quaker City.

GEORGETOWN TEAM DEFEATED

Carroll Institute Bowlers Win Three Games.

SPORTS IN GENERAL

Tomorrow will be the opening day of the American League season, and at this writing it looks as though the weather man will be kind to President Ban Johnson and his fellow magnates. With the sun shining it is expected that record-breaking crowds will turn out in the four cities wherein the eight lubs of the American League are scheduled to play. Milwaukee opens in Chicago, eleveland in Detroit, Boston in Baltimore and Washington in Philadelphia.

Manager Manning, Secretary Needham and fourteen players will leave Washington this evening for Philadelphia. From yesterday's showing it is more than probable that Mercer will be on the rubber against Connie Mack's Athletics, and Wiley Piatt will probably serve them up for the Quakers.

The game starts at 4 o'clock and the gates will be opened at 2. A band of forty pieces will play throughout the game, and it is reported over in Philadelphia that Manager Mack has persuaded the band leader to have his organization play "When Reuben Comes To Town" at the time the Senators march on the field. The Athletics have had considerable practice during the past two weeks with strong college teams, and are in first-class condition. From the game the local players put up against Georgetown yesterday they are amply able to take care of themselves, and it is more than probable than an in-teresting contest will be witnessed tomorrow in Philadelphia BY A NARROW MARGIN.

Manning's Men Won a Close Game

From Georgetown. The predictions that the Washington club would have a hard time defeating Georgetown yesterday proved true, the professionals coming out ahead by the close score of 3 to 1.

Notwithstanding the cold, bleak afternoon, the contest was unusually spirited and well played, the blue and gray going through the nine innings without an error, while the Senators had three marked against them, two by Clingman and one by Clarke, the latter's misplay letting in Georgetown's solitary tally. All three errors were the result of carelessness or over-confidence. When Georgetown's historian records the athletic events of 1901 he may be depended upon to devote more than a paragraph to a play made yesterday by Second Baseman Hara, as the like is only seen once in a Quinn hit a fast grounder toward right field, for which O'Hara made a quick drive. Owing to the slippery ground and the speed at which he was going O'Hara lost his balance as the ball struck his hand, and fell forward, landing on his left shoulder and side of the head. He twisted and wriggled to get his feet on the ground, but it seemed slow work in the excitement, and, twisting his right arm loose, threw the ball toward first while apparently standing on his ear. Devlin made a pretty one-hand catch of the thrown ball, and the sensational play was completed in clever sensational play was completed in clever style. The applause and cheering followed was almost deafening and long while the Senators had not batted against even fair pitching, and Twirler Blewett was exceptionally clever with his curves and drops yesterday. Georgetown placed five singles to the credit of Drill, Connors and Devlin, the first named pair getting two each, while the Senators had eleven, one a double by O'Brien. Carrick pitched the first four innings, and the blue and gray secured three safe hits, and while Mercer was on the rubber the last five innings but two hits were made by the collegians. Umpire Betts was somewhat hard on both twirlers in the matter of calling strikes, but he rightfully favored the collegians when there was any doubt. The same thing applies to his base decisions.

Work of the Local Men.

To the local enthusiasts the work of Center Fielder Farrell and Third Baseman Coughlin was the most attractive. The other players on the senatorial team are known quantities and their capabilities have been measured, but Coughlin failed to make good here under the Wagners' management on account of getting a had start, and Farrell was really playing his first game in the east. Nothing better could be asked than that both men continue yesterday's work throughout the sea-Farrell went to the bat five times and placed three timely singles to his credit, and, in addition, secured a tab in the stolen base column. In the field he is strictly all right, one of his catches yesterday, when he got the ball on a run at about his shoe tops and threw to second without recovering, making a pretty double play, was the feature of the Senators' field work. Coughlin, at third, had little to do, but it was the way he handled himself that made everybody remark that Washington has at last secured a third baseman of merit. He whips the ball to first with a speedy underhand motion, which is accuracy itself, and wild throws will be a this season. Out of four times at the bat he secured two singles, both of which were line drives.

Of the others O'Brien's batting attracted the most attention, the ex-senator getting a double and two singles. He batted with confidence, and his exhibition was very similar to that when he first joined the Washington club two years ago. There was no doubt as to the hits; the ball shot through the infield on a line and were in the outfield before the players could move from their tracks. Clarke back-stopped eautifully, and Everett, Quinn, Clingman and Dungan made several pretty plays. Following is the score:

Carroll Institute Wins Three Games

The Carroll Institute bowling team has regained its past form and last night, against the Golden Eagles, sent the balls down the alley in championship form, and, as a result, placed three straight games to its credit. These victories also sent the Carrolls along toward the top in the championship race, and they are now but three games behind the Jolly Fat Men, who are holding on to second place with a tenacious grip.

In the first game last night Brosnan secured top score honors, having 203 pins to his credit. In the second game, Brandt of the Eagles rolled the same score, 203, which was the best. In the third Gorman knocked over 192 pins and secured high score honors. All three games rolled by the Carrolls were over the coveted 800 mark, and one exceeded 900 by fourteen Following are the scores in detail:

"Major" Taylor's Big Victory. According to a cablegram from Roubaix, France, "Major" Taylor, the American short distance cycle champion, scored a signal victory over a big field of European cracks yesterday. In an international open kilometre race (about 1,093 yards), held at Roubalx, the colored wonder finished first. There were thirty competitors in the event, including Grogna, the Belgian champion, who finished second. A rider named Dangia was third. The significance of the victory lies in the fact that Grogna has twice wor the Grand Prix of Roubaix, in 1839 defeat-ing Tommaselli, the Italian champion, and last year Jacquelin, the French champior and greatest of all European riders.

American Pugilist Badly Injured. At the National Sporting Club, London last night "Jack" Roberts of England knocked out "Billy" Smith, the American, in the eighth round. The fight was for the nine-stone championship of England. After the fight Smith was removed to hospital, where he was still unconscious at 2 o'clock this morning. It is feared that his

The Carroll Institute pool team vis!ted the Jolly Fat Men's Club last night and after a well-played contest, won out by the score of 245 to 217. Six players were lined score of 245 to 217. Six players were lined up on each side, and all of them handled their cues with great cleverness. In the first game played by these teams the Jolly Fat Men won out by 34 balls. The second went to the Carrolls by 22 balls, and last night's victory was achieved by 28 balls. night's victory was achieved by 28 balls. The Carrolls now lead the Jolly Fat Men by 16 balls on the series. Ex-Champion Frank Sherman entertained the crowd after the tourney with many exhibition and practical Base Ball Notes. The bad weather kept yesterday's attendance down. Georgetown and Washington again this The batting of both teams was light, the collegians naturally so as the result of facing such good men as Carrick and Mercer, be on the rubber for the blue and gray.

Game starts at 4:30.
Only one game was played in the National League yesterday, Philadelphia de-feating Brooklyn 9 to 3. Harry White, the ex-Georgetown pitcher, was on Quakers and held the Hanlonites down to six hits. Rain caused a postponement of games in New York, St. Louis and Cincinnati yesterday. Umpire Betts made a peculiar ruling yes-erday. O'Brien hit a high foul and while Moran and Walsh were going after it and a collision seemed possible several voices rang out, "Look out!" The ball dropped safe and the umpire declared O'Brien out, claiming that Everett's voice had interered with the players getting the ball. Golden, the Georgetown outfielder, was on the players' bench for a short while esterday and is fast recovering his good health. His batting and pitching has been greatly missed this season. Both O'Brien and Clingman batted righthanded yesterday, as Blewett pitches from he off side. Against right-hand twirlers these men bat left-handed, and Clingman is said to have improved a great deal on account of his shift Pitcher Mercer was given a splendid re-ception when he went on the rubber in the fifth inning by both the townspeople and the college boys. There is no question about "Win's" popularity in Washington. Manager Manning was especially pleased over the work of his men yesterday. He had witnessed several of the brilliant games played by Georgetown against Yale and Princeton, and he confessed to feeling very dubious about the outcome. He was naturally elated over the victory, as it will give the Senators confidence for the game in Philadelphia.

Manager McGraw may prove the "wise Willie" in signing Cy. Sermour. With proper training the big lad should make a winner, as he can hit and throw like a streak and likes to play the game. Robinson may get him back into big old ritch. inson may get him back into his old pitching form. Ex-Senator Gorman and Governor Smith will attend the opening game at Balti-more tomorrow between McGraw's team and the Boston American League team. An

"The fastest man I ever saw in my ca

He is a marvel, and if he learns to bunt he will get two or three in-field hits a day. It looks to me as if Watkins would walk in with the pennant in the Western Association.—Cincinnati En-quirer. This is ex-Senator Fox, tried here in '97 by J. Earl Wagner.

The great base runners are not tremendously fast. Doyle, Donovan, Van Haltren and other leading sack thieves are not mar-velously fast. Their advantage lies in knowledge of the pitcher's preliminary movement and ability to get a start on him, added to knowledge of sliding. Here again extreme speed may add to the detri-ment of a man finishing fast. For a man going at a tremendous speed can scarcely slide skillfully. He must go straight into the bag, cannot slide back of it or inside or outside or beyond. "Unfortunately we had already arranged for two shooting tournaments in this country during July. However, we will endeavor to have the home dates changed in order to be in London at the desired time. I am inclined to think the matter can be arranged satisfactorily."

Mr. North cabled the British team as follows today: "Trying to get earlier date; will advise by cable."

Mr. North stated that the American team would probably sheet against teams in Glasgow and Dublin, following the London match.

Tom Loftus is telling another good story on Barney Dreyfuss. According to Loftus' story, Barney, the last year he had his club at Louisville, was $12,000 loser. The club had been losing and losing, and it seemed as if it never would win a game. One afternoon late in September the ninth inning came on, with the score Cincinnati 8, Louisville 3. Suddenly, after two of the Colonels were out, Dexter made a hit; single after single followed, and the runs began to roll in. The crowd went wild. Barney was up in the grand stand, jumping up and trying to get $12,000 worth of satisfaction out of the game. Big Hans Wagner soaked out a triple and two runs came home, tying the score. Barney jumped to his feet to give a great yell. His voice broke, piped shrilly and died away in a faint screech. Turning to a companion, Barney, who was barely able to speak, said: "Dot is right, dot is right. The first time dis season vot I get a chance to yell den I lose mine voice."

CITIZENS' ASSOCIATION DISCUSSES STREET CAR SCHEDULES.

The Erection of School Buildings-Number of Streets Recommended for Improvement.

Various needs of its section were dis cussed last evening by the North Capitol and Eckington Citizens' Association, which met in the lecture room of the Church of the United Brethren, corner of North Capitol and R streets. Mr. William G. Henderson, the president, called the meeting to order and reported that the executive committee had recommended to the Commissioners the placing of the following streets on the schedule for improvements: S street from North Capitol westwardly. North Capitol from R to T streets, Quincy from North Capitol westwardly and Patterson This action was approved by the association. Mr. Henderson also stated that he had received a communication from the Civic Center requesting that the association ap-point a delegate to take part in its work. The association later, on motion of Mr. Foulke, elected Mr. Henderson a delegate to the Civic Center. Mr. A. O. Tingley, secretary, reported what had been done by the executive committee to have the erection of the public school building on Lincoln avenue north of R street, expedited. He said the occupant of the school site has paid his rent to July and that it would probably take eigh months to build a school house from the ime the work is begun. On motion of Mr. J. H. Lane the Commissioners will be rejuested by the association to have bidders lace a time limit on the contract, to be aken into consideration in selecting the successful bidder. Mr. A. R. Serven, chairman of the commitee on schools and school houses, reported hat while the building of a second sch colored children on P street between North Capitol and 1st streets west could not be prevented, he understood that a conclusion had been reached not to put a third such school building there. He had been told by persons connected with the making of ap propriations that if enough money is not appropriated to buy a school site in the location to be served by it the matter would be referred back to the appropriation committees, so that more money could be allowed the next year.

Mr. Serven said he wished it clearly understood that there was no opposition on the part of himself or any one else in the association to the building of school houses for the accommodation of colored schools where they would be most convenient for the children who are to occupy them. It had been shown that only a tenth of the pupils of the one school building on P street come from that neighborhood, and now that a second building is to be put there the association wanted to make an urgent protest against a third one, the cholars for which must come from a long distance. Mr. Serven was authorized to ascertain in what squares the colored children in the tenth division live, so that it might be conclusively shown where the school house should be built.

A resolution was adopted requesting the Commissioners to provide additional school rooms for next year for white children liv ng in the section represented by the asso ciation by renting rooms for that purpose if the new building on Lincoln avenue north of R street is not completed in tin for use. It was shown that there were eight half-day schools in the Eckington building on account of a lack of room. The question of street car schedules then taken up, and a number of members complained of the long waits that are made in certain parts of the day on the Maryland and North Capitol street lines. Resolutions Adopted. The complaints and wishes of the asso ciation in the matter were embodied in resolutions, which were adopted, setting forth That this association, while recognizing for the state senate. Since the publication and admitting the improvement of the present street car service over that former-ly given by horse cars, is yet satisfied that it falls far short of the needs of the community; that the half-hour wait beween cars on the Maryland division n from 8:54 a.m. to 3:24 p.m., and from 7:54 p.m. to 12:24 p.m., is too much for any built-up portion of the District; that a change from an eight-minute to a thirty-minute ule is altogether too great; that cars should be run to and from Eckington not more than fifteen minutes apart at any time of the day, and not more than eight minutes apart, as at present, during the busy hours; that the recent action of the Washington Traction and Electric Company in placing larger cars on North Capitol street, if it had not been accompanied by a reduction of the schedule, would have removed cause of dissatisfaction on that line, but that the taking off of several cars has simply substituted one cause of complaint for an-other; that now, while the cars are not as much crowded as formerly, the waits between cars are too great, and compel many persons to walk who otherwise would "That this association believes that the several rallway companies under the pres-ent management of the Washington Trac-tion and Electric Company still owe to the community, in exchange for the franchises granted to them, conveniences of transpor-tation, to establish which those franchises were granted; that such conveniences have not been and are not now sufficiently sup-plied; that said companies should not re-gard alone the question whether it pays to run a sufficient number of cars to accommodate the public, but, first of all, the obligation they are under by reason of the charters granted to them.

"That this association, without any desire to be unreasonable in its demands, but looking to the interests of the community at large, and in view of the universal dissatisfaction throughout the city with street railway schedules and other analogous railway schedules and other analogous matters, pledges itself, unless the said Washington Traction and Electric Company shall promptly afford the required service, to do all in its power to secure such legislation as shall place the matter of street railway schedules, etc., in the hands of the Commissioners of the Dis-trict of Columbia, under such restrictions as shall safeguard the interests of the public.

It was ordered that copies of the res olutions be sent to the officers of the Washington Traction and Electric Com-pany, the Commissioners of the District of Columbia and the chairmen of the committees on the District of Columbia of the Senate and House of Representatives.

Conference Authorized. Mr. W. J. Hughes, chairman of the rail-was committee, was instructed by the association to confer with rallway officials in order to secure the changes desired. Mr. Irwin B. Linton, chairman of the committee on parks and parking, was authorized to bring to the attention of the parking commission the including in the park system land bounded by 3d street and Eckington place, New York avenue and R street northeast; also the southern portion of the Patterson estate Mr. Karl R. Waldecker was elected member of the association.

GOLDEN ANNIVERSARY.

Washington Saengerbund's Program

at National Rifles' Hall. The Washington Saengerbund continued the celebration of its golden anniversary last night with a jubilee ball at National Rifles' Armory, on G street. Nearly 500 people participated in the festivities and the occasion was the greatest social suc cess the bund has yet recorded. All who were present entered into the jubilee spirit of the occasion and spent a thoroughly enjoyable evening. The dance hall was beautifully decorated with palms, vines and cut flowers. During the evening telegrams of congratulation received from kindred of the Saengerbund, Mr. A. Levy and Mr. Henry Xander. The floor committee in charge of the management of the ball consisted of Messrs. F. Altrup, R. B. Behrend, G. H. Beuchert, A. O. Hutterly, F.
